WHAT NOW?

In our last week's issue we headlined a story on the hospital. Supervisors reject R. D.'s proposal. This in a way, we were sorry and on the other hand, happy to say, was in error.

If we have caused the Supervisors any embarrassment we apologize, but in order to clarify our position in this grave matter, and to reassure our readers and to reaffirm our desire for an immediate opening of the King's Daughters Hospital, at least, until such time as a new County Hospital can be built, we will give a resume of happenings up to the present time.

On or about July 1, 1957, members of the executive board of King's Daughters Hospital went on record with the announcement that unless additional financial assistance was received, they would be forced to close the hospital at midnight on July 14, 1957.

When this announcement was made the entire local population was aroused. Meetings were called and plans and proposals made but to no avail. Come midnight, July 14, 1957—and sure enough—although no one believed it would actually happen—the hospital was closed. Now, nearly two months later, despite repeated efforts, it still remains closed.

On August 6, 1957, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County offered to take over active charge of the King's Daughters Hospital and made the following proposal:

IN THE MATTER OF A COUNTY OWNED HOSPITAL

There came on for consideration the matter of operating a county owned hospital and the Board having duly considered the matter finds that since the recent closing of the local King's Daughters Hospital, there are no hospital facilities available to the general public of this county, and that because of the many emergencies that arise and the number of charity cases who are not able to provide for themselves, the board should make every effort possible to provide local hospital facilities, therefore upon resolution offered by Supervisor Hubbard, the following resolution was adopted, to-wit:

WHEREAS, since the recent closing of the local King's Daughters Hospital there are no local hospital facilities available to the general public of the county, and

WHEREAS, there are many emergency cases that require hospital treatment, and

WHEREAS, there are charity cases who are unable to provide hospitalization for themselves and should be provided with hospital facilities, and

WHEREAS, the county has contributed towards the operation and maintenance of the local King's Daughters hospital for a long number of years, and

WHEREAS, the existing facilities of the recently closed hospital could now be used advantageously by the county in providing hospitalization for the public, now therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors will operate and maintain the hospital which was recently closed and levy the necessary taxes to do same, provided the King's Daughters organization will convey the real property and all of the present equipment to Hancock County for the sum of One Dollar ($1.00).

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk of this Board send a copy of this resolution to each member of the Board of Trustees of the Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital.

The foregoing motion was seconded by Supervisor Russ and upon a roll call vote being taken it was unanimously adopted.

The members of the King's Daughters Hospital Board did not accept the Supervisors offer (neither did they reject it) but instead offered a counter proposal to Hancock County.

The following is the motion as it was made and carried by the members:

A motion was made by Mrs. Kathryn Ford, duly seconded by Mrs. Irene Hill and passed that the Hospital building, lot on which it is located, and the equipment and furnishings be offered Hancock County for the sum and amount of $1.00. The Board of Directors of the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital to furnish the Board of Supervisors an inventory of the equipment and furnishings in the hospital building.

It is understood that efforts are being made to issue bonds for a new hospital. Should a new hospital be built it is understood that the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital building and lot on which it is located shall revert to the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital.

The King's Daughters and Sons Hospital shall include in their deed all of the equipment and furnishings in the building; however, it is understood that after a hospital shall be built and accepted by the county, such equipment and furnishings as cannot be used in the new hospital shall revert to the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital.

It is further understood that should the county fail to re-open the hospital within 90 days from the acceptance of this offer, or should said county at any time fail to operate a hospital in the building hereby offered for a period of ninety days then said property shall revert to the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital.

Witness my hand and seal this 22nd day of August, 1957.

DORIS M. KIRKPATRICK

Secretary, King's Daughters & Sons Hospital

Date, August 22, 1957

The Supervisors at their regular meeting on September 3rd, 1957, rejected our counter offer, but instead invited us to the session of their board in order that the courthouse on Friday, September 6, at 10 o'clock, as a public meeting and attempt to reach a final agreement, which they hoped would result in the hospital being opened at the earliest possible date.

Members of the Board of Supervisors and interested citizens were present, but not a single member of the hospital Board showed up. Consequently, the Supervisors closed the meeting with the announcement that they had neither accepted nor rejected the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital offer.

WANDERING

This is generally the week when Waveland settles down to a quiet complacency after the bustle and commotion of summer. School has opened for the fall term and social activities have almost come to a standstill. Books, homework, and the new TV Station, WWL-TV, have taken up considerable time this week. The last vestige of summer, the only stop light in Waveland, at the corner of Beach Boulevard and Coleman, was carefully taken down last week and put into moth balls, or wherever all good stop lights are put for the winter months. Summer guests have closed their homes, and much of our town has subsided into the regular routine of life in a small community.

Debbie Reynolds Had A Ball As A Barefoot Bayou Belle in Picture

We've often heard of what goes on at the "eleventh hour." This is a little story brought to our attention about the Pass Christian Fisherman's Rodeo held in the Pass from August 1 to Sept. 1.

On the evening of September 1, at exactly 11:00 A. M., Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Jr. were in their boat at Cat Island and pulled in two of the biggest fish they had caught all summer. Remembering the rodeo, they decided to try to make the deadline, noon, and enter their fine catches in the contest. They spun into the Pass at 11:30 A. M. just in time to enter the rodeo. Brockman's speckled trout, 4 pounds, nine ounces, and his Mrs.'s speckled tipped scalles at 2 lbs., 2 ounces. They won first place prizes in the rodeo. Brockman was awarded valuable fishing tackle and a rod and reel; Mrs. Catherine Brockman was given a $20.00 gift certificate to Kreeger's Department Store in New Orleans. The Brockmans who spent almost as much time in their boat as they do on land, won several fine prizes in the rodeo held in the Pass last year. The young couple are residents of Henderson Point, but formerly resided in Waveland where they have a host of friends and relatives.

Mrs. R. S. Kramer is spending week ends in her beach home on the corner of Beach Boulevard and Market Street. Mrs. Kramer is the wife of the late Dr. R. S. Kramer of Jennings, La., who died in February of this year.

Guests of Mrs. Ruth Ketchum and daughter Miss Clara Lee Ketchum during the past week were Miss Ester Kirsch, Miss Helen Roberts and Mrs. Ruth Murphy, all of New Orleans.

A delightful dinner party held in honor of Airman 2nd Class Albert Asher was held at the home of his parents Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Asher and family entertained for young Asher who is home on a 30-day leave, prior to leaving for Alaska for a stint of two years. He is with the Tenth Air Division.

Guests of the Ashers were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herlihy and daughter, Kathleen; Mrs. Florence Duke and daughters, Mary Lee and Fay; and Mrs. Ruth Ketchum and daughter, Miss Clara Lee Ketchum.

Miss Lynne Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall, was elected to serve as one of Bay High's cheerleaders this year. The students were selected by the student body and several faculty members.

Other students who will cheer the "Tigers" on to victory this year are Misses Mary Henderson, Catherine Alliston, Gail Finley, Pat Kennedy. For the first time in many years, the girls will be joined by a boy student, young Donald Green, who is a senior this year. Gail Finley is the exception of Lynne who is a sophomore. She lives in Waveland with her family. The other students are residents of Bay St. Louis.

Determination to prove her versatility as an actress took the shoes off pretty Debbie Reynolds, put her hair into pig tails and dressed her unglamorously in dungarees held up by clothesline rope.

"And I loved every minute of it," says Debbie about her role as an uninhibited girl from the back bayous of the Mississippi in Universal-International's "Tammy and the Bachelor," the Technicolor and Cinemascope production opening at the Star Theatre, on Thursday and Friday, September 12-13, in which Leslie Nielsen, Walter Brennan and Mala Powers are co-starred with Debbie.

Folks were beginning to believe I was suitable only for light, frothy roles in musicals," Debbie explained. "I talked my home studio, M-G-M, into loaning me to Universal-International for 'Tammy and the Bachelor,' just because I wanted to prove I could handle a character role. An actress can't remain typed in certain parts without hurting her career in the long run."

In "Tammy and the Bachelor" young Miss Reynolds portrays a barefoot lass raised on a shantytown by her grandfather completely cut off from modern city life. Her experiences when she finally encounters a sophisticated young bachelor highlight the story.

Before "Tammy" came along, Debbie strode a musical path to stardom, beginning with her boop-boop-a-doop performance as Helen Kane in "Three Little Words." Highlighting her career have been top roles in the musical "Singin' in the Rain," "Susan Slept Here," "Hit the Deck," "A Catered Affair" and "The Tender Trap," in which she sang with Frank Sinatra.

Mississippi's second station in the national air sampling network has been opened at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory near Ocean Springs. Announcement of the opening was made in Jackson by H. L. Vaughan, engineer in charge of the Division of Industrial Hygiene in the State Board of Health. The first station is on top of the Old State Capitol in Jackson and began functioning last January. Mr. Vaughan said the stations are part of the network of 128 operated in co-operation with the Public Health Service to determine the nature and extent of air pollution over the country, to observe trends and to assist in the development of possible ways of control. Officials said reports of the analyses of samples from the Jackson station during the eight months of operation indicate that the concentration of atmospheric contaminants is comparatively low.

IT IS BETTER TO GIVE THAN RECEIVE

One of our ardent readers gives her idea of what it means to give of your time and effort and even your money—to help promote the welfare of your community. We print below her letter as written to us.

Some of us have so much to give, and do. The writer, with his command of language and ability to create articles of enlightenment either fact or fiction—which may open new vistas of thought and inspiration; the artist with his brush; the scientist; the professional man or woman and so on.

In our fine little city, so much has and still can be accomplished with just some more from those who have always given and the coming forward of those who have not.

Of the things and simple things, give of yourself in that courage which makes for the betterment of a community. Why hesitate so much to suggest or a thought for improvement which could mean thought of those who have not.

Small communities all over our land today are striving hard to advance and with ever increasing costs of expenditures, more and more attention is given to the interest and welfare of one's community will certainly be welcomed by any right thinking governing body.

In your city, with our town, town potentialities, don't hesitate to give of your time and effort and even your money—to help promote the welfare of your community. We print below her letter as written to us.

LETTERS

Sept. 10, 1957

The Honorable Commission Council City of Bay St. Louis, Miss. Gentlemen:

This is being written in an open public letter in the hope that the suggestion being offered will be adopted by your Council.

The suggestion being offered is the formation and appointment of a Citizens' Advisory Committee of Planning Commission or call it by whatever title you wish.

This community is badly in need of such a group of civic-minded citizens. The sooner the group is formed and becomes active the better. We have a fine community. It is sorely in need of ideas that will promote its growth.

If this recommendation is accepted by you may it also be accepted by the community.

National Civil Defense Week, September 15-21

Mississippi's Civil Defense activities for the past year will be spotlighted during the Second Annual National Civil Defense Week, September 15-21.

This year's observance is being held around the theme, "Government in Emergency," and will give Federal, State and Municipal governments an opportunity to determine how much progress has been made in the past year in preparing for disaster.

The Civil Defense effort, nationally and in Mississippi, is aimed at preparing for natural disasters, such as Hurricane Audrey, and for the possibility of an enemy attack.

In the past 12 months, there have been great advancements in weapons development. The Government says an all-out attack on the United States would destroy a great number of cities, inflict heavy damage on rural areas, and spread radioactive fallout that would contaminate thousands of square miles.

In cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration, a staff of Mississippians is at work on an "Operational Survival Plan" for the state, a plan which outlines how the state would function in event of an attack.

The statewide phase of this plan is now complete. There are four possible targets in Mississippi, and this state's main mission would be to provide for evacuees from principal target areas like Memphis, Mobile, and New Orleans.

The "Operational Survival Plan" directs how these evacuees would come into the state, and how they would be cared for. The plan also takes into consideration the evacuation of possible state targets like Jackson, Columbus, Greenville, and the Coast area.

The state's entire emergency capabilities have been surveyed, and the plan, for instance, details the amount of food on hand in the state, whether raw or processed, and where it is.

The Survival Staff is now working with county and municipal Civil Defense Organizations, developing the part to be played by the local groups in the "Operational Survival Plan."

Under Mississippi law, the Governor has authority to use State and Local Government facilities, including personnel, in the event of an enemy attack or natural disaster.

Mississippi is hit by hurricane, flood, tornado, the emergency communications, supply and shelter sections of the Survival Plan, if needed, can immediately be put into effect.

TRAFFIC FATALITIES DECREASED DURING MONTH OF AUGUST

Traffic fatalities decreased sharply on Miss. highways during August.

According to Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough, 16 less fatalities were reported during the past month than during the corresponding period one year ago.

He said 28 motorists were killed during August, 1957. The August 1956 toll reached 44 deaths.

Actually, the state's highway death toll has been down all year. As of August 31, the '57 count was 299 dead as compared to 336 reported killed through the same period last year.

This margin of decrease has been growing slowly but steadily as the Highway Patrol increases its traffic law enforcement program.

Safety authorities find that when traffic law arrest convictions climb, an area's accident rate drops.

Mississippi Highway Patrol accident records bear this out.

Harris-Wingo Wedding August 31

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL HAAS

Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Hattiesburg, Miss., was the setting for a wedding of unusual beauty and social prominence Saturday, August 31st, at 4 p. m., when Miss Myrtle Jane Wingo became the bride of Mr. Michael Durret Haas of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Leon Wingo, Hattiesburg, Miss.; Mr. Haas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton J. Haas, Sr., of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. Reverend John Martin performed the double ring ceremony.

The main altar of the church was adorned with tropical ferns, palms and tall white tapers in cathedral candelabra. The church was decorated with arrangements of white pom pom chrysanthemums and gladioli. The altar rail was draped with wreaths of smilax tied with white pom pom chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher played several selections of sacred music on the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Billy Thompson, who sang Ave Maria.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white imported tulle. It featured a long train with a bouffant skirt that trailed into a chapel train. The finger tip veil of illusion was arranged from a coronet of lace and pearls. She wore a string of matched pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride's bouquet consisted of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and lilies of the valley, centered with two white orchids and streamers of white embossed satin and strings of pearls.

Mrs. Richard S. Spencer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Wade Jones, Hattiesburg, Miss.; Mrs. James Longcoy of Biloxi, Misses Carolyn Tims of Tunica and Migonne Russell of Jackson.

The attendants wore identical intermission length dresses of blue peau de soie over taffeta. The bodice of lace featured a scoop neckline with cap sleeves. Their headresses of velvet petals with illusion veils were caught up with rosebuds.

The matron of honor's dress was identical to the bridesmaid's.

For the wedding trip to Florida the bride chose a black sheath shantung topped with a redingote of black and white rippled cotton. She wore a black lace straw hat with patent accessories. Her carriage was of the two white orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The young couple will make their home at 115 Washington St., Bay St. Louis, where the bridegroom is actively engaged in the practice of law. The bride attended the University of Houston and Miss. Southern College, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority, Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, Rho Tau Sigma Honorary Radio Fraternity.

The bridegroom received his BA degree from Mississippi Southern College, where he was president of Phi Kappa Alpha Social Fraternity, business manager of the Student Prints and President of the Student Club. He received his LL.B. degree from the University of Mississippi. Law School where he was elected to Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity and was associate editor of the Mississippi Law Journal.

FAULTY FEED NO HELP FOR FATTENING PIGS

Pigs won't thrive on faulty feed. It seems traditional with farmers that when feed of any kind is fed, it gets moldy or spoiled. It is tossed into the "hog lot" with the hope that some good can be salvaged from it. This practice has grown worse in the years because pigs usually will eat most call feed and stay alive. But even so tooth style is a weakness of writers, and it seems when attempting to do verse we deviate from the reporting, which is and find ourselves doing contrast.

From between seven-thirty and eight o'clock of the morning Sept. 19, 1887 in short it was morning. The sun is returning out from behind clouds over heavy clouds.
In the work of Esther,
the storm, who wished to gather her heels with high heavy rains, a great deal evidence but not enough to make history or go into the hall of famous or immortal hurricanes. She didn't have the name, and for that is certainly grateful.

Friday, Esther came in from the city perhaps she wished to know she also could be but perhaps she timed her visit in advance, for it was on September 19, 1887
that snoring, rugged bullets which had gathered all around them and at midnight with a monster 16-caliber gun and pounded his identity upon the coast, especially spilling his against Bay St. Louis, in Hancock County. This man named Charlie, he hit at the same time in the city as did Esther, and perhaps he was his great mistake had he come in the darkness, he might none of them survived his vengeance and acquiescence.

The little there is in this case the losses ran into the tens of dollars, twelve hundred in dollars, several hundreds of pounds, and many water, gas, heat, oil, and other things, and some roads cut off, leaving nothing for the community except feeding nations and doing a magnificent job for his neighbor. The result of disaster was another. At least he caused only inconvenience for her and I guess
perhaps her best friend and neighbor, except the fact that she was not rich, and the fact that she was a woman, making her a victim.
